Please note: as designers are unaware their garment has been selected to receive an award, please do not contact them until after the winning garments have been announced at the Awards Ceremony and the show has closed at 11pm (NZST), Friday 25th September, 2015.

Tokyo-based Australian, Scott Sutcliffe has claimed a section prize in the 2015 World of WearableArt™ Awards in Wellington, New Zealand tonight.

Scott is a full-time fashion educator and his garment “Apocalyptic Warrior” was award second place in the Man Section: Uniform. Made from patent canvas, cord, metal and parachute fabric, the garment has a very strong presence of stage and is designed to represent both masculinity and hedonistic traits. The inspiration for the design came from two sources; Japanese designer Shigeru Ban’s ‘Curtain House’ and Dutch designer Marcell Wander’s Zeppelin light fitting.

Scott originally considered the competition for his students but after learning more about it he decided to enter. “I became very intrigued about WOW, it is the perfect platform to have the opportunity to showcase my creation amongst some very talented designers and their creations. I know there was no other choice, I had to enter!”

In response to all of tonight’s winners WOW Founder Dame Suzie Moncrieff said “the high standard of entries this year are a testament to the outstanding talent of our designers. The innovation and creativity in each garment, the wide range of materials used and the workmanship is truly inspirational “

Of the 107 entries to take the stage in tonight’s 27th WOW Awards Show, the following Hong Kong-designed garment was an award winner.
